Where is Margaritaville?

It's in the tropics somewhere between the Port of Indecision and Southwest of Disorder, but no parallels of latitude or longitude mark the spot exactly. You don't have to be a navigator to get there. Palm trees provide the camouflage. Ocean breezes bring the seaplanes and sailboats, tourists and travelers.

Passports are not required. Island music rules. No waiting lines for anything.

There is a beach and a thatched roof bar perched on the edge of the turquoise sea where you can always find a bar stool. There are lots of lies and loads of stories.

It's a comical concoction that blends together like tequila, salt and limes.

Where is Margaritaville?

It's in your mind...It's in this tequila.

Mi casa es su casa

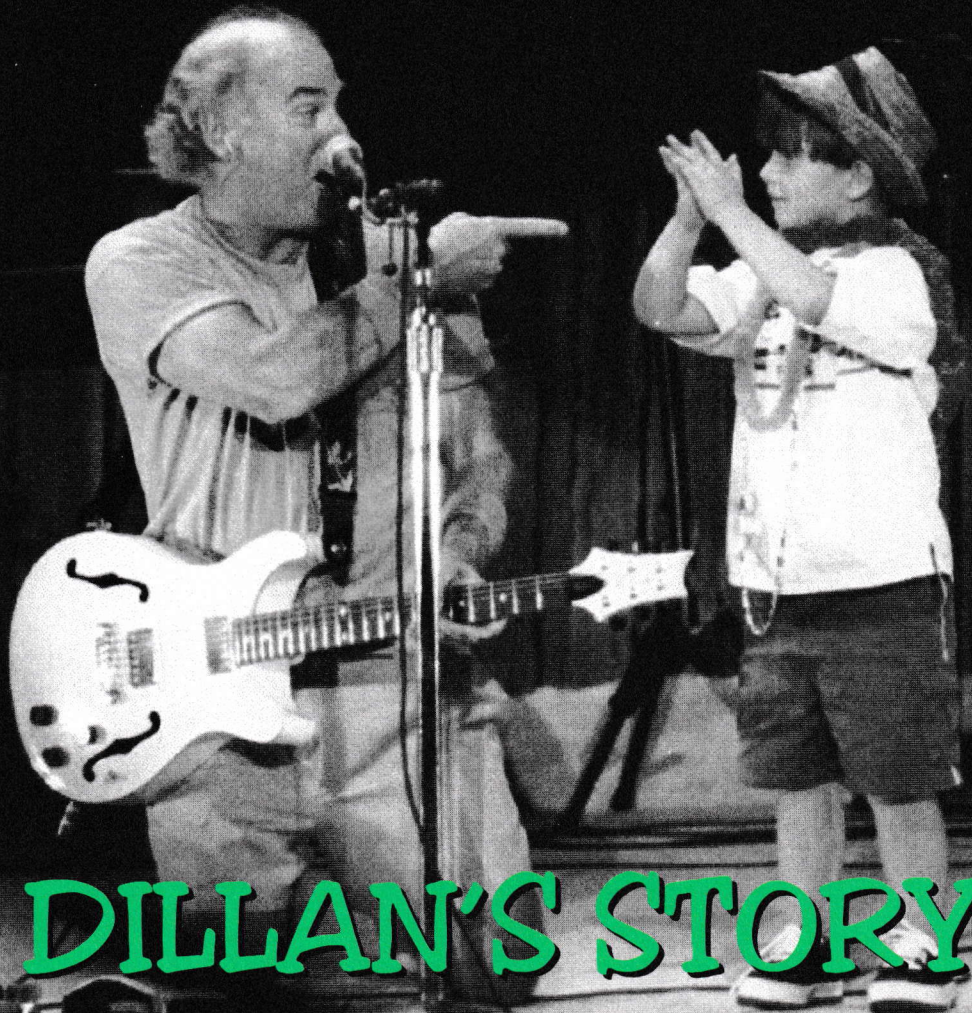

Soon Come...

A grand slam homerun drives the Cleveland Indians ahead of the New York Yankees during an early fall game in the 1998 American League playoffs. The fans erupted on the free-standing bleachers, but 4-year-old Dillan Williams' celebration was short lived. The little baseball fan slipped through the stands striking his head on the pavement 20 feet below.

The life threatening fall landed Dillan in the hospital, where doctors told his mother, Bonnie, their less than optimistic diagnosis. Dillan was in a coma-like state, not responding to even painful stimuli. His family was encouraged to talk to him during his stay in the Intensive Care Unit, play music, remind him of good times. A trip to a Jimmy Buffett concert earlier in the year had turned little Dillan into a future Parrot Head, so his grandparents hoped that he would enjoy a Buffett tape. The live recording of Fins on the Feeding Frenzy CD is a rousing rendition of the she-came-down-from-Cincinnati classic. Dillan began reacting to the music, and was soon singing along with the song. Excited nurses called the doctor shouting that, Dillan's come to and he's singing Jimmy Buffett! After 2 days Dillan was back.

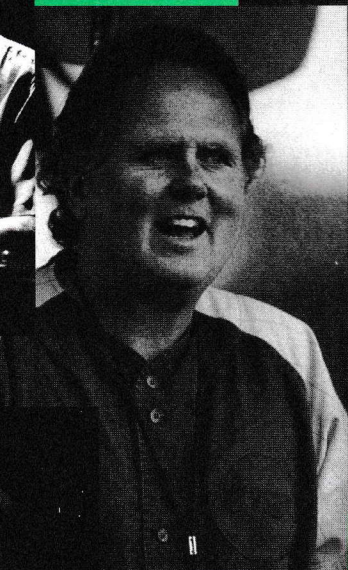

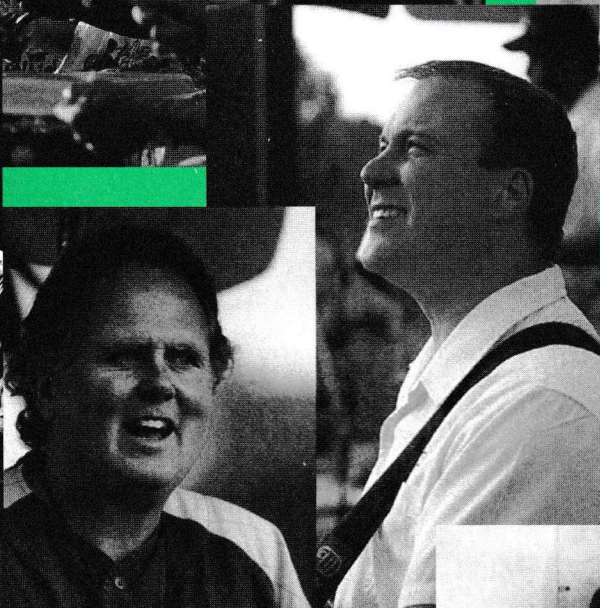

Several more days in the hospital and he was able to go home to be with his brothers, Dallas and David. His mother and grandparents had been to hell and back. You don't have to be a parent to understand the heartache of a critically injured son or to sympathize with the threatened loss of a loved one, particularly when a child is involved. Bonnie wanted to share her good fortune with Jimmy Buffett fans, wanted to let them know the effect his music had on her little boy.

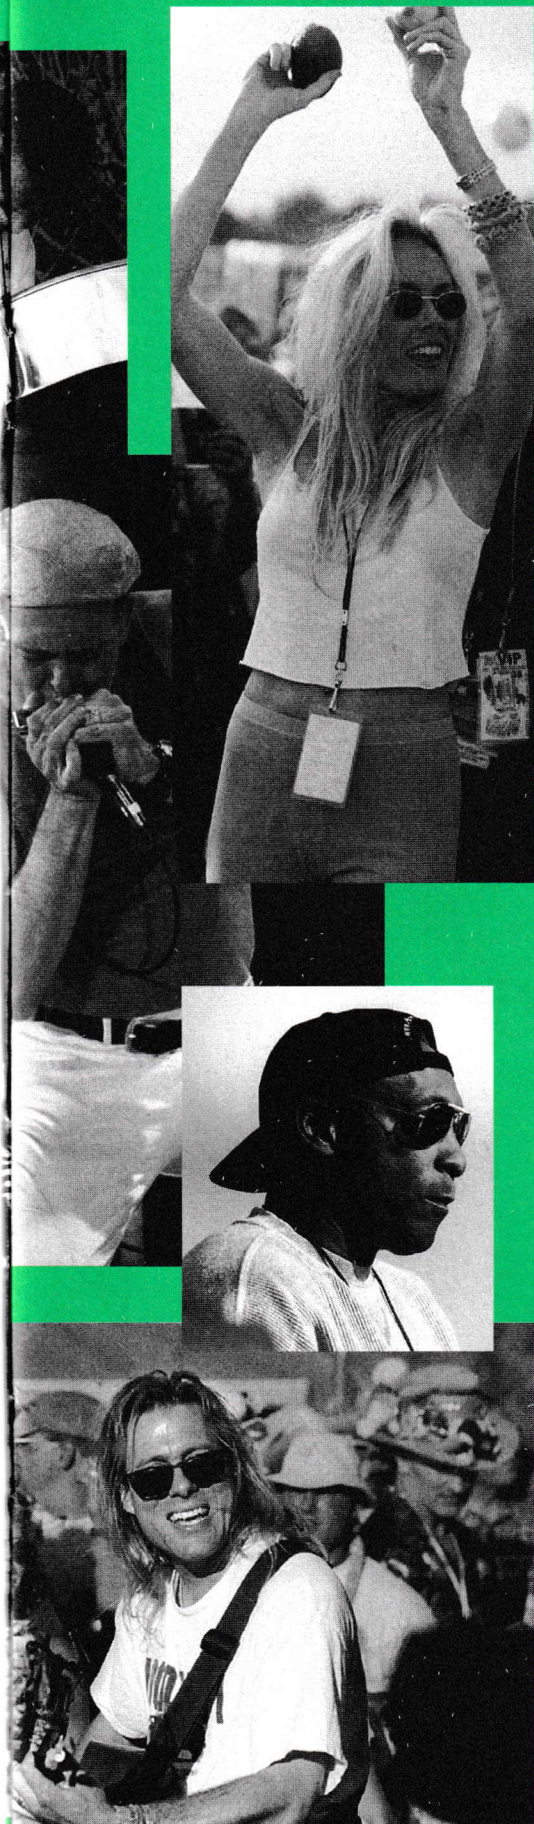

Posting the story to a Buffett newsgroup got the attention of Jimmy's assistant, Mike Ramos, and a meeting was arranged. It was hard to tell who was having more fun. Jimmy's a parent, and sharing a few minutes backstage in Columbus, OH, with this impressionable little boy could strike the parental chord in anyone. Dillan asked Jimmy if he could do the Fins song, and Jimmy told him he could come up on stage if he wasn't afraid. I'm not even afraid of sharks, Dillan replied.

DILLAN'S STORY

...and The Coral Reefer Band. Jimmy Buffett's successful recording career is due in no small part to his Merry Men - the troop that escorts him through the symbolic Sherwood Forest every summer. The talented people who contribute to the best-selling albums, the artists that help to compose the "background music" to Parrot Head lives. Future issues of the Coconut Telegraph will highlight individual Coral Reefers and shed some light on their past, present and future endeavors. Michael Utley grew up in Arkansas and was heavily influenced musically by the sounds of Memphis soul and New Orleans rhythm and blues. "Really we're all just musicians. It's fun to get out there in front of people. When they react to your playing, it's a great feeling." He's played harmonica for Jimmy Buffett and James Taylor, as well as with his own bands in juke joints all across the country. "Fingers" Taylor, a Jackson Mississippi native, is considered by many musicians to be one of the best harp players around. Robert Greenidge is probably the most successful steel drum player in the world. Mr. Greenidge grew up in the heart of the Caribbean, on the Island of Trinidad. For more than a quarter century, Ralph MacDonald has stood at the forefront of traditional and contemporary music leaving his indelible mark on nearly every genre of melody and rhythm. Guitarist, vocalist Peter Mayer has been quietly, steadily building a fervent following across the country. Stepping out of the shadow of his boss Jimmy Buffett into his own with a fresh song writing and performing style. Bassist Jim Mayer's earliest musical memories are of getting the 'Parlophone' 45's from England of Cliff Richards and of course the Beatles. Before the age of five, Jim was well acquainted with "Please Please Me" and "Summer Holiday" from Cliff Richards. By the time drummer Roger Guth entered his teens, he had already built a strong foundation as both a drummer and pianist. This would prove to be a stepping stone that would help him in reaching his ultimate goal of being the outstanding musician/songwriter that we see today. New Orleans became a second home to Amy Lee in '90 & '91, living there for weeks on end, performing with a jazz band - Diversity - with Charles Neville and playing the streets of the French Quarter. Nadirah Shakoor was an integral part of the Grammy Award winning Hip Hop group Arrested Development before joining the Coral Reefer Band four summers ago. She has also performed with fellow Reefers on Club Trini's Back In Town and on Ralph MacDonald's latest release Port Pleasure. A native Californian, Tina Gullickson has been involved in entertainment and the arts all her life. Her professional career began at age 16, hosting a local television show. Modeling for teen fashion magazines and commercial acting soon followed. Lyman Corbitt McAnally, Jr. was born in Red Bay, Alabama. Mac began his musical career in church at the age of three, when his mother (a gospel pianist) would place him on the piano and let him sing. Growing up in Belmont, Mississippi (population 1,300), Mac had very few musical influences. "I didn't listen to anybody," he said. "There wasn't anything there to listen to." Doyle Grisham was born in Temple, Texas. His early influences included Carl Smith and Webb Pierce. He started playing guitar professionally when he was fifteen. While attending Temple Junior College, he discovered he could make more money playing music than continuing his pursuits to become a teacher.

PHILOXENICS

Margaritaville is proud to welcome these PHans to our island for their annual Meeting Of The Minds. Its time for a self-congratulatory pat on the back. These PHolks work tirelessly at the local level in a variety of community efforts, giving of their time, their money, even their blood simply because they feel its the right thing to do. They've earned some time off and have planned this trip for a year. We applaud the organizers, both national and local, the participating businesses, the historical tolerance of Key Westers, and mostly the PHans - thanks for coming.

Three Service Projects have been chosen for Parrot Heads to support while attending the 8th Annual Meeting of the Minds.

WESLEY HOUSE

Bring a $5 Bill for Wesley House. Wesley House is a child and family resource center for Key West and Monroe County. The PHIP BOD would like to help them with their capital campaign by raising enough money to "BUY" a room for them in their "new" building. They are in the process of renovating and need CASH—that's where we can help out. If everyone brings $5, we could raise $15,000 for them—this could fund the NEW CHILDREN'S PLAY AREA !!!! Or We could buy them a Family Builder Work Station or a Child Abuse Prevention Work Station.

BLOOD DRIVE !!! This time of year blood supplies are extremely low. We will be coordinating a blood drive on Thursday October 21, time and location TBA. Donate a pint and get 30 FREE PHIP Raffle Tickets !!! Take one day out of your weekend to help someone you don't even know.

TOYS-FOR-TOTS Bring an unwrapped toy for a Monroe County Child. We will be working with the Monroe County Sheriff's Office on this project. We overwhelmed them last year—Let's Blow 'em Away this year!! I see two rooms filled with toys for MOTM 99 !!!!

Being true Parrot Heads my wife and I took time out from our trip to China to check out what's going on with the Coconut Telegraph. We changed our latitudes, but kept our Parrot Head attitudes.

I don't know if this is the right place to send a message to Jimmy, but tonight (tequila and beer induced) I want to share my special Jimmy memories.

I spent 5 1/2 years over in Saudi Arabia, most of the time driving from one desolate location to the other. I spent more nights than I could ever count overnight on lonely mountaintops. The only people up there with me were two or three other Westerners and the poor Filipino workers that were stuck up there for 2 and 3 years at a time. Needless to say that however lonely it was for me, it several times worse for those Filipino guys and the few Indian guys.

After I would eat and the sun would go down I would go sit out in the trusty old Suburban, roll all the windows down and plug in "Feeding Frenzy" and crank it up. After all, Saudi TV channel 2 is nothing a non-muslim guy would enjoy. It would not take long and pretty soon the Suburban would be surrounded by all the workers at the site listening to Jimmy. I would spend alot of time explaining some of the American sayings. Hey, not everyone understands "soft-toed". It was always a special time. Believe it or not, Saudi is a beautiful country as the sun is setting across the desert. Here we were, 1 fat American, 6 lonely Filipino guys and the confused Indian guy all groovin' to Jimmy on a mountaintop 100km from anything with electricity. As could be expected from a bunch of Island people, "One Particular Harbor" was the ONE. I would have to replay that one so many times. Several times I saw tears being wiped back, yeah, even my own.

Oh well, that is my Jimmy story. Keep pressing guy!

No, this record has nothing to do with the millennium, the meaning of life, or the price of tea in China. Hell, I can't even call it a CD, or an MP3 file. To me, a collection of songs will always be records. In many ways my failure to adopt the technically correct terms of the day happily brands me as a hopeless romantic. We have been making records for a long time, and we have been on the road for a long time, and one of the great joys in keeping this boat moving, is that we have put a lot of water and time in our wake. Some crewmembers have come and gone, but many are still here. The passenger list is more interesting and larger than it has ever been, and their uniforms maintain a tradition of defying good taste.

On earlier voyages, we ran at a faster speed and stopped at a thousand ports along the way. These days, however, we just play Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. When our ship comes in, the party begins. If angst is your diet and serious thought is your idea of recreation, then PLEASE DON'T BUY THIS RECORD. But, if you like the beach, need some escapism and like to laugh, stomp and dance, then you have come to the right spot. And, YOU ARE NOT ALONE. For the past year, we have played the background music to the lives of a lot of happy people, and okay so we did utilize some hot dog technology and recorded the whole experience. Hell, there are even pictures on this record.

But, it really is a little reminder of what goes on in the mythical land of Margaritaville every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday Night, and how much fun we have all had together.
