Robert Greenidge - A Lovely Cruise The Steel Drum Music of Jimmy Buffett

Born in Laventille, Trinidad, West Indies on 28 April 1950. Robert's first playing experience came under the direction of his uncle, Carl Greenidge, a renowned arranger and tuner. Possessing an artistic ear for playing various types of compositions, Robert was recruited at the age of 15 by Trinidad's leading steel orchestra "Desperadoes", winners of several prestigious awards including: the Prime Minister Trophy, The Triple Crown, The Governors General Cup, and the Music Festival Trophy.

At sixteen Robert performed at the First Negro Arts Festival in Africa, quite an experience for such a young man. In 1967 he performed at the Montreal Exposition in Canada, followed by an extensive tour to London, Zambia and New York, and in 1970 was chosen to represent Trinidad and Tobago, both as a soloist and a member of Trinidad National Steel Orchestra.

Robert moved to New York City, and mastered the art of composing and arranging at the Third Street Musical Conservatory. A proposal was set in that December to arrange and play with the Music Makers Steel Orchestra in Los Angeles, California.

He returned to Trinidad to work with Rudolph Charles (Desperadoes), one of the innovators of a newly designed steel drum which required hand & foot coordination, dexterity, and speed. His expertise bought the Desperadoes Steel Orchestra to a new height in music. Robert first played the Trinidad Carnival in 1979, and has returned every year since.

Robert has chosen his favorite JB songs, and with the help of fellow Coral Reefers, has recorded this fantastic CD for all fans.

Song For The Children

Celebrated recording artist Mishka's new release, the Ocean Is My Potion, is a journey back to his musical roots. Like Mishka himself, the album is imprinted with the sounds and emotions of the islands, with influences that range from the heavy bass of Reggae to the Gulf and Western stylings of Jimmy Buffett.

Mishka first met Jimmy Buffett when he was an entrepreneurial five year-old delivering fresh croissants to his sailboat in the French West Indies. The musician and young Mishka formed a fast bond, and Jimmy wrote and recorded a song about him called, "Chanson Pour Les Petis Enfants" which translates to, "Song For Little Children."

When preparing to record his latest album, Mishka handpicked his support team, which led him back to his old friend from the islands. This album will be his first release on Mailboat Records.

Recorded at the famed Shrimboat Sound Studio in Key West, the album features Mishka's take on the Buffett classic, "Trying to Reason with Hurricane Season." The track features both Mac McAnally and Jimmy Buffett.

Born in Bermuda and raised in the Caribbean, Mishka's music is a natural fit for Mailboat Records. Caribbean at its core, with an eclectic sound that blends island beats with mellow acoustic ballads, the music is amplified by the messages of love and social justice that are delivered straight from the heart.

Staff From St. Somewhere

Jimmy Buffett's Margaritaville, from tropical latitudes to high stake attitudes, from the Caribbean to the Carolinas, Margaritaville has embraced the mythical world defined by the insightful lyrics of singer/songwriter Jimmy Buffett for well over two decades. Climates and characters from prose and poem create an entertaining atmosphere in a variety of exciting locations, all designed to illustrate and illuminate the search for the legendary lost shaker of salt. And while we've captured the substance in our physical locations, the Margaritaville style remains, "anywhere you want it to be."

And anywhere I want it to be is right here in Key West, and it's been here for over a quarter century. In that time a tiny T-shirt shop on the Gulf side of an island famous for sunsets has grown across the country, throughout the western hemisphere, and most recently on the west side of Darling Harbour, New South Wales in the Land of Oz, we're not in Kansas anymore Toto. With locations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and across the International dateline, it can be safely said that the sun never sets on Margaritaville.

In that time millions of burgers, tons of suds and mucho margaritas are consumed. A clothing line incorporating the Margaritaville lyrical lifestyle has been created along with many of the necessary accoutrements. Menu selections are going local while hotels are going national and vacation clubs will criss-cross the Caribbean.

about the good times

I learn all of these things while attending a staff meeting one mandatory Monday morning. I was enjoying breakfast at the bar reminiscing with other veteran Margaritians on the phenomenal success of our little Mom & Pop store. So imagine our surprise when the Pop of Mom & Pop saunters out of the kitchen into the café and up on his stage.

In the real world having Jimmy Buffett at an employee staff meeting is like having Bill Gates reboot your PC, LeBron James playing h-o-r-s-e in your driveway or James Earl Jones on your answering machine; very cool but way overkill. He appeared so quickly and quietly that we were all caught off guard. It wasn't long before cell phone cameras were drawn and familiar shouts of "Jimmy!" echoed through the café. Margaritaville meetings typically include the simplest form of group participation – a raffle. Jimmy immediately took over the number calling portion of the presentation, drawing no doubt on early career carny experience to entertain the crowd. We usually have nice prizes donated or bartered with local businesses but Jimmy had to kick it up a notch, donating floor seats to the Miami Heat NBA team.

"This is the first time that I've seen you all in place, it's kind of scary...but seriously this is the first Margaritaville and it's always been a special place for me. We've been here 27 years and I just want to thank you from the bottom of my heart. We're here making an album so we'll see you around, hopefully it'll be good and we can pay the rent and keep on going."

[There will be more on the new "album," Songs From St Somewhere in future issues of the Coconut Telegraph.]

The Margaritaville Café opened on Duval Street late in November 1987 with the stage christened by Florida's famed troubadour, Gamble Rogers. Jimmy said, "Gamble Rogers taught me how to move an audience with dialogue and delivery as much as with music. When the Margaritaville Cafe opened its doors in Key West, it was Gamble whom I asked to initiate the stage and hopefully leave his mark there for others to follow."

have a bit of imagination, you can create. I listen to everything. But don't go to a particular place and listen to the bellman at the hotel that caters to the tourists. Go down to the local bar, to the waterfront, where the fish are cleaned, and listen to the local people. That's where you get your information. If you go back over my music in sequence over the past 20 years, you'll find it's pretty much autobiographical. You can figure out a lot of the things that have happened in my life."

Oh the stories he could tell.

Indeed they did Jimmy. Steve Winwood, the Neville Brothers, Robert Cray, Steve Cropper, Donald Duck Dunn, Kenney Chesney, Coral Reefers past and present and many others too numerous to mention. Throughout it all there remains one constant – a self-deprecating singer/songwriter schooled on his grandfather's travel tales and fueled by an appreciation for southern writing style.

"The basic way to be a good writer is to keep your eyes and ears open and keep an open mind. If you can listen and you
